

Center for Renewable Energy Research and Environmental Stewardship
Board of Directors
February, 2010

- Donald G. Colliver is an engineering professor at the University of Kentucky. He represents postsecondary education interests.
- Cam Metcalf is the executive director for the Kentucky Pollution Prevention Center. He represents postsecondary education interests.
- Brian K. Clardy is an assistant history professor at Murray State University. He represents postsecondary education interests.
- Richard M. Clewett is a retired professor. He represents an energy conservation organization.
- Susan C. Patton is a registered nurse at the Veterans Administration Medical Center in Cincinnati. She represents consumer advocates.
- John M. Wright is the vice president of Strategic Planning and Development at Owensboro Grain Company. He represents companies that are focused on renewable energy.
- Andrew S. McDonald is a coordinator for Appalachia – Science in the Public Interest. He represents companies that are focused on renewable energy.
- Thomas J. Fitzgerald is the director for the Kentucky Resources Council, Inc. He represents environmental interests.
- Tony Wilder is the commissioner of the Department for Local Government. He represents local government interests.
- Dr. Len Peters is the secretary of the Energy and Environment Cabinet.
- Deborah Clayton is the commissioner of the Department of Commercialization and Innovation and represents the Cabinet for Economic Development.

- Kris Kimel is the president of the Kentucky Science and Technology Corporation.